

Meteorologist

---

The Connecticut Weather Center is looking for a Meteorologist

We are private weather company located in Danbury Connecticut specializing in weather warning services to a variety of clients, both in the private and government sector. Since 1984, Connecticut Weather Center has provided a quality weather services as well as Radio broadcasts to our clients.

Job Description: The Connecticut Weather Center is looking meteorologist during day to day operations. The position would be from the Danbury office and mainly during the afternoon as well as occasional other fill in shifts. Responsibilities would include preparing weather forecast and sending to reports to clients, updating web site, logging daily climate data, recording radio cuts.

**** Multiple opportunities to grow with the company with the potential of full time employment ******

Responsibilities:

- Generate daily weather forecast that get sent to clients
- Produce storm warning reports
- Build various GIS products
- Create forensic reports
- Logging daily climate information
- Updating forecasts on the ctweather.com website
- Record weather forecasts to be broadcasted on various radio stations

Schedule: Hours vary seasonally but a minimum of 20-30 hours a week. Longer hours during severe weather events as well as winter storms.

Pay: $15 to $20 an hour - Based on experience

Minimum Qualifications:

- In pursuit of Bachelor's Degree in Meteorology or similar or relating to physical atmospheric sciences
- Strong understanding of meteorological processes and forecasting techniques especially in synoptic meteorology
- Good oral, written and personal communication skills
- Must know how to use various software including MS Office, Paintbrush, Corel, etc.
- Capability to manipulate coding in WordPress, python and PHP databases.
- Radio broadcast communication skills a plus!!!

Application Instructions: Please email your resume, along with a cover letter, sample audio/video recording, copy of your resume and references to paul@ctweather.com.